Forecast For Highland & Eilean Siar
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Tuesday 21 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mainly dry, cloudy and cold on Tuesday.

Today:
Mainly cloudy and often dry, a few showers in the Western Isles and northwest. Some brightness breaking through across parts of the central Highlands and Lochaber at times. Feeling rather cold. Maximum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Tonight:
A mostly cloudy start to the night. However cloud will increasingly break across most parts overnight. Generally dry, but some patchy light drizzle along the west coast in the evening. Minimum temperature -6 deg C (21 deg F).

Wednesday:
Mostly dry. Rather cloudy to start, but some sunny spells soon developing for many, best in the northwest. Cloud increases later with rain and hill snow spreading north late afternoon. Maximum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Rain and hill snow for most on Thursday. Turning drier but colder on Friday and Saturday. East or southeast winds, strengthening on Saturday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.